Keep Up With Us

Getting to Know CEO Chris Ilsley

New NSIV CEO & President, Chris Ilsley (say "ills lee") has been with us for just over a month. We briefly introduced him to you in last month's newsletter, but now it's time for a bit more in-depth look. To help us get acquainted, he recently sat down for a Q&A.

Find out about his interest in working with entrepreneurs, why he's excited to join NSIV, his thoughts on mentoring, and his vision for the future. You'll find the full interview on our website.

Member Spotlight - Glycologix

This month, we welcome back Glycologix, who recently rejoined NSIV.

At Glycologix, what began as a potential cure for wrinkles has evolved into what could become the first treatment on the market for a debilitating urology disease...

Five Words - Our Companies Do What?

Can you tell someone what you do in 5 words? Well, most of our members can! We're always pushing them for their "Grandma" pitch and decided it was time to shrink it to 5+ words for our website company page.

Now with phrases as short as 3 words and some a bit longer than 5, we hope you can quickly learn something about each company, and then click through to the individual websites for details.

Around the World with NSIV

The World Cup is over - congrats to our members and friends from France!

Realizing we had members and staff from many places around the world, we hung a large map and asked everyone to place a pin. With yarn stretching from birthplace or childhood home to the World Headquarters of NSIV, the map now tells an interesting story about our global community. So far we have identified 18 different nationalities and at least 12 languages spoken by our members.

For companies interested in entering the U.S. market place, NSIV's Soft Landing Program provides a suite of services to help international companies adapt and thrive in the our business environment.
